Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 02 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and showers, some heavy.

Today:
After sunny spells in the morning, it will become cloudier in the afternoon. Some showers will break out, particularly in the south and east, where they could be heavy, thundery, and slow-moving. Feeling pleasant in any sunshine, light winds too. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
A cloudy evening with some heavy showers in places. These gradually fading throughout the night, leading to a cool night with variable cloud and some clear spells. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tuesday:
A day of sunny spells and some showers, these most frequent in the south and east of the region. Feeling a little warmer with the light winds continuing. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Showers becoming more widespread through this period, particularly on Thursday where they will be heavy and thundery. Sunny spells between the showers, but more generally cloudy on Thursday morning.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.